Matrusri invites you to participate in national level tech fest DhruvaMedha 2K18 on 28th and 29th September.

Attractive cash prizes with certificates will be given to the winners

Day 1:
Hands on Workshop on DevOps software development and operational tools. Its actual worth is around 500 but we are offering you affordable price of 100 rupees. Moreover it shows how to change software rapidly at any point of time after creation.

Day 2 (Technical Events):

Paper Presentation:
In this event participants have to give a slide show (at least 15 slides) about any technical concept or paper. Depending on the uniqueness and innovation, judges would decide the winner.

Googled:
This is an event where you just have to Google the answers of the questions given to you within the time limit. So filtering would be done until the winner is finalized (team of 2-3).

Algorithomiac (Team of 2):
You may face certain difficulties in coding and executing the code. So we designed an event where u will be awarded just by giving idea to code that is, giving the algorithm.

Blind Coding:
This is completely a coding challenge where you have to code without seeing the code, that is, your monitors will be switched off, you will be having around two levels.

Lan Gaming
Here comes the interesting fun event Lan gaming. So the games are PUBG for mobile and BLUR and COD 4 for PC. Entry for PUBG per team is 200/-. In case of BLUR n COD, 75/- per person. These are not included in combo.

Crypt Your Mind
This event is partially coding based event. So you have to decrypt the word given to you with the hint. The words are generally coding related words.

Play and Code with Jenga
Here is where coding meets fun. The task is to play Jenga and on each tile you are asked questions related to technical stuff.

Code Puzzle
This is also a coding event where you have to arrange given sequence of lines of code in correct order so that code is executed.
